As is vividly depicted by the picture, there is a grandma standing in front of us, saying that an increasing number of people take part in dragon boat race in her village, with a grandpa agreeing to what she said. Common as it is at first glance, this picture is brimming with illumination after our pondering.

What can be deduced from the drawing is that traditional Chinese culture plays a key role, which should not be overlooked by young generation. First and foremost, the fact that traditional Chinese culture attracts a growing number of people suggests that our conventional culture has been accepted and appreciated. In addition, the influence of our traditional culture which exerts positive effects on the development of our country can be spread by hosting a variety of cultural events. Last but not least, we cannot emphasize the importance of traditional culture too much.

From where I stand, we can draw the conclusion with confidence that national culture should be preserved and cherished as an invaluable spiritual treasure. Every individual is supposed to assume the responsibility of carrying forward traditional Chinese culture for the purpose of enlarging the influence of our nations culture. Only in this way can our country create a more bright and promising future.
